This unique sloping lot in Eleuthera Island Shoresâ€™ affectionately known as Surferâ€™s Beachâ€™ offers the perfect canvas for your dream getaway. Perched 40 feet above sea level on whimsical Cantaloupe Lane, it boasts wide southwestern views over the serene Bight of Eleuthera. Located in a sparsely developed subdivision, the area is tranquil and retains its rustic charm and laid-back vibe. Just minutes from Gregory Townâ€™ famous for its cliffside views, warm locals, and sweet Sugarloaf pineapplesâ€™ this region is steeped in history. In the 1950s, Eleuthera helped rescue the global pineapple trade during Hawaiiâ€™s Great Pineapple Blight, supplying slips that revived the industry. The island remains beloved for its surfing, tropical beauty, and unspoiled lifestyle. With a price of just $50,...read more on our website.
