Island retreat on 200 acres! This eastern side of Fresh Creek at Mastic Point, North Andros, features a distinctive coastal environment that diverges from typical beach landscapes. It faces the Atlantic Ocean, creating a vibrant marine atmosphere. It is near the third-largest barrier reef, enhancing ecological diversity. The shoreline includes rocky formations, mangroves, and sandy areas, offering a dynamic coastal landscape. These vital ecosystems provide habitats, protect against erosion, and filter pollutants. The barrier reef promotes a rich marine ecosystem with diverse coral reefs and fish species. Clear waters and vibrant marine life make it ideal for snorkeling and diving. The area is popular for recreational and sport fishing. Rocky shorelines and mangroves provide opportunities f...read more on our website.
