Radiating sophistication and charm, Rocamar captivates at first sight, establishing itself as a masterpiece of impeccable allure. Featured in Architectural Digest in July 1992, Rocamar was designed by the renowned Juan Pablo Molyneux. It blends "English Colonial with a Bahamian Twist" and underwent extensive renovations in 1992 to enhance its enchantment. Perched on three elevated lots, Rocamar overlooks the Lyford Cay golf course and the tranquil ocean. Spanning 1.47 acres of landscaped grounds and an additional 1.15 acres of leasehold land, this estate comprises five buildings: Main House, Guest Cottage, Staff Cottage, Pool House, and Generator/Pool Room, totaling 13,213 square feet. The grand Main House features classic architecture and tropical aesthetics, with columns, crown molding, ...read more on our website.
